From the Law Enforcement profession on COPS:

"COPS has developed into the ultimate peer-support organization. Survivors and agencies NEED COPS."

-Supervisory Special Agent (Ret.), James J. Horn
Behavioral Science Unit, FBI Academy
Quantico, Virginia

"I've been associated with COPS since its beginning and kept that close association. And, yes, in 1991 in Florida, my department did need to use its services. The organization has proven invaluable."

-Former Chief of Police Gil Kerlikowski
Community Oriented Policing Services
US Department of Justice

Comments on COPS' Training:

"I learned that my department has some work to do. Thank you."

"It is a topic that needs to be addressed in all departments."

"This helped identify weaknesses in our own human nature which will cause us to change our department's response to these types of situations."

"Course content was excellent. I'm recommending the course to my partner and supervisor."

"I highly recommend this course to ALL police officers."

No Agency wants to face a Line-of-Duty Death.

The only thing worse than the death itself is being unprepared to handle the chaos.
